ABOUT

We use digital communication more frequently every day. Personal data, sensitive information and private correspondence: everything is digital. But what about our right to digital privacy? Due to the new Intelligence and Security Services Act (Wiv, the "Act") the General Intelligence and Security Service of the Netherlands (AIVD) gets additional competences for data collection. During this event we will discuss the implications of the new Act on the work of NGOs.

Pro Bono Connect (a project of the Dutch section of the International Commission of Jurists), TrustLaw (the legal pro bono service of the Thomson Reuters Foundation) and De Brauw Blackstone Westbroek are pleased to invite you to this event.

SPEAKERS

Axel Arnbak Lawyer at De Brauw Blackstone Westbroek specialised in digital privacy and communication, affiliate researcher at the Institute for Information Law (University of Amsterdam).

Paul Ducheine Professor by special appointment of Military Law of Cyber Security and Cyber Operations (University of Amsterdam), professor Cyber Warfare at the Faculty of Military Science of the Netherlands Defence Academy and Brigadier-General at the Army Legal Service of the Royal Netherlands Army.

Lotte Houwing Responsible for the Wiv file at the Public Interest Litigation Project (PILP-NJCM).

Jelle Klaas Litigation director at the Public Interest Litigation Project (PILP-NJCM).

David Korteweg Researcher for Bits of Freedom. Working on topics such as: the secret services and reform of European privacy legislation. Previously a lawyer specialised in IT law and privacy.
