Our shared efforts the past 9 years have confirmed the significance of lawyers in the Netherlands supporting civil society, pro bono. This has proven to be a team sport: pro bono lawyers are part of the broader community working for human rights & positive change.

Now more than ever, law firms are re-assessing their role as global citizens and their impact on the environment and society.

Join us to learn and be inspired!

Building Bridges: Pro Bono Lawyers as Partners for Impact in Society

Effective cooperation calls for trust, understanding each others' perspectives and identifying our unique strengths.

This session for civil society and pro bono lawyers will include discussions of pro bono in strategic litigation, professional standards for lawyers, and insights into the complexity of pro bono within large firms. Pro Bono professionals will share their experiences and offer a peek into the process from receiving a pro bono request through conflict checks, engaging colleagues from various practice areas, and taking on a case.

We will end with two interactive sessions to identify pressing needs and opportunities. These will be displayed during the closing reception, for networking and follow-up!
